Below is the memo out of Compaq responding to them: Compaq has replied to your questions as follows: ## ENA's calculation of the "short" at the end of year two is incorrect. As pointed out in ENA's December 28th letter, ENA had calculated the short amount based on the full six months end of the tax year, including June. There are no terms to the transaction that require ENA to pay for the last six months of the year. Enron's December 28th letter notes "According to Enron's computations, ENA owes $4,233,410.59 for the third quarter of 2000." ## Enron's computation is correct. Why wasn't the audit conducted on the audit of the $2.3MM Ks? Why was the audit limited to only the $4,233,410.59 due for the second half of 2000? Why was the audit conducted on a transaction that was paid for in full in 1999? ## We have now informed ENA that the relevant transaction to the audit is the payment of $2,136,346.86 on November 6th, 2000 (the full $1,929,236.86 for the second half of 2000 plus the full $306,910.00 for the last six months of 2000). ## The question regarding the audit
