appropriately enough for a format named after the legendary creature that's leading your team, your commander works differently from other cards in the game. before the game begins, each player removes his or her commander from the game. you may play your commander from the command zone for its normal costs plus an additional {2} for each previous time it has been played this way. if your commander would go to the graveyard from anywhere, you may remove it from the game instead. in addition to the normal magic loss conditions, if a player is dealt 21 points of combat damage from a single commander over the course of the game, that player loses the game! in the singleton format, no two cards in a player's deck can share a name unless they're basic lands (plains, islands, swamps, mountains, and forests). players can use standard, extended, legacy, or vintage deckbuilding rules. building a deck that works consistently yet contains no duplicates can be a creative challenge, or it can be the perfect format to take advantage of a small card collection that might not have multiple copies of rare cards. singleton decks lead to games that are more varied, more interesting (as you see cards you may not normally see), and may be more fun! each pack contains a 120-card booster pack, a 9 card mini-dungeon, and a 24 card main dungeon. all types of cards are featured, and the size of the booster pack is the same as in regular booster packs. mini-master is a fun, competitive format for new and returning players. though the randomized cards and tricky gameplay give players a sense of unease and suspense, the ability to build a deck from cards you have already opened and played makes the experience feel quite different. mini-master is also a great way to enjoy the new cards introduced in the 2014 yu-gi-oh! trading card game and the new yu-gi-oh! vrains game.

Duel power celebrates spring 2019 by rolling together a new 100-card Ultra rare booster set (including 40 brand-new cards) alongside new Ultra rare variant artwork of every Yu-Gi-Oh! TV series ace monster (from Dark Magician to Decode Talker), and a new double-sided game board celebrating Yu-Gi-Oh!'s history. Each box of Duel Power contains 6 new Duel Power Booster packs with 5 Ultra rare cards per pack. Duel Power's booster set includes 40 new cards and 60 hot reprints, including the 4 Popular Discard Effect monsters (from Ghost Ogre Popular Spells and traps like Infinite Impermanence, Card of Demise, and Evenly Matched; Link monsters from Borreload Dragon to Trick Star Holly Angel; and out-of-print cards like Naturia Beast, High Priestess of Prophecy, and 2015's Nekroz Ritual monsters. At its core, the Yu-Gi-Oh! TRADING CARD GAME is built on a foundation of building powerful decks to compete. The official Yu-Gi-Oh! Tournament Organizers produced 40 cards that are the best decks of the game for every single grade in the game. These 40 cards, called a Deck Refresh, ensures there is a strong deck for every single YGO player to build with. To ensure maximum opportunity for players to build their own Deck Refreshes, there are quite a lot of cards available within the collection, which is why previous OCG TOs have set aside a set of cards that fulfill an OG material role. These cards are called OG Super Rares. Combined with cards from the Seasonal format, these limited-time cards represent the very best the game has to offer. To access these cards, players need to pick up a Booster Pack of Dueling Visions from local participating retailers like Toys'R'Us and The Goodwill. As always, players can check the official tournament rules for details on purchasing and using Booster Packs. The official TCG rules define two kinds of Booster Packs: Booster Packs and Deck Refreshes.
