Inkjet printers are well known in the art. Inkjet printers form an image by propelling droplets of ink through an air stream on to the surface of a print medium. The print medium is moved relative to a print head having a plurality of nozzles, and the print head is controlled to form a desired image by the selective activation of the nozzles. The print medium may be paper, a transparency, a fabric or any other suitable surface. Printers may be used to form promotional and advertising materials that are intended for use by one or more participants or recipients of the materials
