As a computer science major I have an interest in AI and machine learning. Having studied for my A levels and have taken on the degree in computer science, I have been wanting to study more in these areas for a while now. I would like to take time to reflect on what I have done during my Masters in Computer Science and the degree so far. One of the main things I enjoyed about my studies was the diversity of the topics that we covered. Sarcospora Sarcospora is a genus of lichenized fungi in the family Sarcosomataceae. It was circumscribed by Paul Christoph Hennings in his 1842 work "Genera in lichenibus". Sarcospora was placed in Lecanora until Ophiognomonina was established in 1984.
